From Keila Gilbert Esq. Advisory Board Chair:

“I am honored that our new Advisory Board members so generously agree to contribute their abundant wisdom and valuable time to help us provide support to those in need.

We are extremely grateful that these individuals have joined us on our advisory board as we progress with us on the journey we began over 25 years ago.

During those years, the many thousands of people who we have helped through their divorce “life-quake” have given us a much greater understanding, empathy and determination to do more for them and their children. Most of us have also learned from our own personal divorce experiences so have an intimate understanding of the anxiety, pain and growth that are woven through the fabric of this challenging life transition. We know how divorce can have a profound impact on our family relationships for years and sometimes lifetimes.”

About the Alpha Resource Center:

No matter where you are in your relationship – single, separated, divorcing, dating or remarrying – our goal is to effectively serve your needs: Strengthen marriages when possible, offer expert guidance through divorce, encourage better choices after divorce.

The passion and goal behind our caring is to stop the Marriage-Go-Round. A troubled relationship affects every part of life in a very negative way. We know divorce hurts. We want to:

- Prevent the climbing 50%, 60%, and 70% divorce rates in first, second, and third marriages
- Reduce harmful relationship stress
- Inspire you to make good life decisions
- Ensure that children are fully protected and prioritized for greater resilience during and after divorce
